BOY SLAYERS CONFESS CRIME

Killed 7 Year Old Cowherd Who Refused to Give Them Sandwiches

Scranton, Pa., June 23.—Two of the youngest slayers in the history of Lackawanna county are being held by the authorities. They are 19 year old Oliver Deider and 14 year old Johnny Dell, both of Olyphant. They have confessed that they shot and killed Peter Knapp, seven years old, Saturday evening in a lonely field when he refused to give them some jam sandwiches he was eating.

The youthful prisoners in their confession to the District Attorney, state that they stole a large pistol from the barracks of the State police yesterday and went out into the woods. They were going along the road when they saw the Knapp boy sitting by the roadside eating a sandwich and caring for cows. The two boys aimed the revolver at the little fellow and commanded him to throw up his hands. The Knapp boy turned his head and began to cry.

"Then I held the front part of the gun and Johnny aimed and pulled the trigger," the Deider boy says in his confession.

Young Knapp was found in the field by his 11 year old sister. There was a bullet in his head. The suspected murderers at first denied all knowledge of the killing.

CYCLONE LEVELS HOMES

Fergus Falls, Minn., Struck by Storm Which Takes Train From Tracks

St. Paul, Minn., June 23.—Reports of a severe cyclone yesterday afternoon at Fergus Falls with more than 100 homes leveled in that city, were received here last night. A Great Northern train was blown from the tracks twenty-one miles west of Fergus Falls, only the engine and one car remaining on the tracks. Reports said three were killed.

Railroad men on trains returning from the vicinity of Fergus Falls said reports were that 200 may have been killed in the cyclone. It was reported that the Grand Hotel at Fergus Falls and that seventy-five persons had been buried in the ruins.

A report from Staples to the Northern Pacific here said that the hotel had been razed by the wind and the Northern Pacific depot demolished.

Shortly before midnight a severe electrical and windstorm accompanied by a heavy rainfall struck the Twin Cities, further interfering with telegraph and telephone service.

The train which was blown from the track of the Great Northern was the Westbound Oriental Limited, cracked train of the railroad. It runs between Chicago and Seattle, using the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy tracks between St. Paul and Chicago.

JUDGE REBUKES STRIKERS

Tells Packing House Employees They Give Unionism Black Eye

Chicago, June 23.—Warning that every strike or walkout in violation of the union agreement with the Government was a nail in the coffin of collective bargaining, was voiced by investigation Saturday of labor difficulties in Chicago packing plants. After hearing several union employees of Wilson & Co. explain their grievances, he said:

"Every time you men walk out as you have done in the past 10 days you are violating a contract between you and the Government and giving union a black eye. You are embarrassing your officials in their efforts to carry out their agreement."

The investigation was started at the instance of certain packers who complained to the Judge that the union men were not living up to the wage and working conditions award which he gave as arbitrator a year ago.

MYSTERIOUS ATTACK

Found Dying With Fractured Skull And Other Injuries, Footprints Showing Two Assailants

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—His skull crushed, shoulderblades broken and his head a mass of cuts and bruises, Samuel Bradley, 76 years old, a night watchman at the Delaware Mills of the Jessup & Moore Paper Company, on the Christiana River, at Madison street, was found in a dying condition at 1 o'clock Saturday morning. The aged man was the victim of an attack by two men, according to the police, and detectives who are at work on the case, but what prompted the assault is a mystery. The only clue left by the assailants, who used a club measuring at least five feet in length is their footprints.

That robbery was not the motive of the crime is the belief of the police, as they found $208 in money pinned to Bradley's undershirt after he was taken to the Delaware Hospital. Whether the assailants had any designs on the plant is unknown but officials there said that they had no labor troubles and none of the employees had been discharged recently.

Another accident which may prove fatal was that of Guy Talbot, a fire man on the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern Railroad. When the storm broke out Talbot was on the tender, helping coal the engine. Lightning struck the trolley and Talbot was thrown unconscious to the ground. He was brought to this city, where his condition is critical.

GUNS BOOM IN COBLENZ

Germans Celebrate Corpus Christi Day in Ancient Style.

Coblentz, June 23.—German cannon boomed in Coblentz today in confection with the religious celebration of Corpus Christi Day, permission having been granted by the Americans to fire a certain number of shots, according to ancient custom, during the festival of the sacramental benediction as the procession passed through the streets. During the hours of the procession the movements of American supply trucks, on their way to the east bank of the Rhine in connection with the troops concentration due to the uncertainty of the peace situation were diverted to other routes by the military police.

Blank charges in mortars, relics of the eighteenth century, were fired at the moment of the benediction near altars at different points as the procession moved through the streets, the shots echoing and re-echoing among the hills along the Rhine, which swarmed with khaki-clad soldiers preparing to advance farther into Germany if the peace conditions are finally rejected.

Not desiring to interfere in any way with the religious celebrations the Americans not only suspended traffic in certain of the principal streets of Coblentz, but supplied powder for charging the mortars fired by the priests. The Corpus Christi procession was not held last year due to fear of daylight bombing raids by Allied aviators.
